

Learning NETWORK FOR ACTIVE AGING

Bridging Research, Practice and Healthy Communities

Bringing together people interested in creating healthy communities by bridging research and practice through an innovative approach of e-collaboration.

- ▶ Sharing lessons from translational research and best practices
- ▶ Serving as a resource for communities interested in implementing evidence-based programs
- ▶ Disseminating information about active aging and healthy communities
- ▶ Providing a forum for interaction among smart growth and active aging sectors

Partners

Active for Life®
www.activeforlife.info
National Blueprint
www.agingblueprint.org
EPA Aging Initiative
www.epa.gov/aging
TXHAN
<http://www.cchd.us/>

Support provided by the
Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

Texas A&M Health Science Center
School of Rural Public Health

For more information contact
Cathy Liles
cliles@tamu.edu

www.LNactiveaging.com